He told the League of Young Republican clubs of Ohio that the NRA and AAA are engineered and operated to destroy our American ideal of equality of opportunity and both inevitably will lead to tyranny or dictatorship

Cites Binding Effect

The President Roosevelt continued maintains that the codes of the NRA have the binding effect of law We therefore have the astounding spectacle of the President of the United States making such laws as he may wish to govern our industries and through them the lives and action of our people

Seven Point Revised Program Calls for Two Year Extension of Codes

INTRA STATE TRADE OUT

Also Provides for Voluntary Agreements and Banning of Unfair Tactics

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 16—President Roosevelt and the NRA board agreed today on a revised NRA program calling for a two year extension as contrasted with the senate vote to continue the recovery organization only until next April 1

A seven point revised NRA plan which will be proposed by the administration to the house was advanced at the White House by Donald Richberg head of the NRA board after it had met with the President The plan provides

1 Two year extension

2 A period of three to six months to revise existing codes

3 Jurisdiction to be limited to businesses engaged in interstate commerce and those substantially affecting interstate commerce

4 Provision for voluntary codes with adequate authority to impose limited codes covering minimum wages maximum hours prohibition of child labor and continuation of section 7-A the collective bargaining clause

5 Definite authority and standards to prevent unfair competition and practice especially those tending to monopoly and the destruction of small enterprises

6 Methods of code making and enforcement to be further defined with enforcement primarily through injunctions and cease and desist orders

7 Provision to protect individual rights and small enterprises through opportunity for hearing judicial review and public control of all compulsory procedure

Richberg said this program was unanimously recommended by the national industrial recovery board and approved by the President

It will be pressed in the house as a substitute for the extension voted by the senate

Richberg indicated he had been consulting with house leaders on this program and said it would be presented forthwith

House committee hearings will begin next Monday

Hoover Flays NRA Program

(Copyright 1935 by The Associated Press)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY Calif May 16 An indictment of the NRA as saddling American people with their worst era of monopolies was added today to the recurring public comment on national affairs of former President Herbert Hoover

Exactly such schemes to avoid competition in business were rejected by my administration because they are born from a desire to escape anti trust laws he said in advocating abolishment of the administration recovery setup

The one right answer by the house of representatives to the senate's action extending the life of the NRA is to abolish it entirely he replied when asked what he thought congress should do

Labels Plan Impracticable

This whole idea of ruling business through code authorities with delegated powers of law is un-American in principle and a proved failure in practice he said The codes are retarding recovery They are a cloak for conspiracy against the public interest They are and will continue to be a weapon of bureaucracy a device for intimidation of decent citizens

He asserted the NRA has been crushing the life out of small businesses and they are crushing the life out of the very heart of the local community

The whole scheme has saddled the American people with the worst era of monopolies we have ever experienced Mr Hoover declared However monopoly is defined its objective is to fix prices or to limit production or to stifle competition Any one of these [illegible] produces the other two and it is no remedy to take part of them out

Criticized Regimentation

Mr Hoover's statement made yesterday followed by a few days an address in San Francisco in which he criticized regimentation as not productive of a [illegible] American

Shortly before that he sounded a keynote for California Republicans with a plea for the militant revival of Republicanism

A long silence on national affairs was broken by the former chief executive at the time of the supreme court gold clause ruling Mr Hoover released a statement in *Tucson Ariz in which he advo*cated a return to [illegible] standard and [illegible]

In the NRA codes Mr Hoover saw a [illegible] of [illegible] enterprises thereby depriving Americans of [illegible] opportunity

Mr Hoover [illegible] one of the coun[illegible] [illegible] codes have in*creased costs of production and distribution and therefore prices* he said Thus they have driven toward decreased consumption and

School Bills Pass Senate As House Votes Budget In Final Burst of Speed

Comedy Marks Activities of Upper Chamber in Enacting 61 Bills as Deadline Approaches

SOLONS INDIFFERENT

Shout Approval of Measures on Hearing Title Without Listening To Their Contents

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O May 16 Amid a comedy of errors the Ohio senate today passed 61 bills and then adjourned until noon when it will consider a half a dozen more preparatory to recessing for a week

Apparently half of the senators paid little attention to the bills Bills which heretofore have caused long debate were adopted with [illegible] the authors or sponsors having to speak

As soon as the titles of most of the proposals were read the clerk [illegible] agreed went up On only a few occasions did the protests of senators interested in learning the contents of the measures prevail

Pass 61 Measures

The senate spent 12 hours in actual session yesterday and early today in clearing the desks of a host of bills most of which were described as of the cat and dog variety The senate quit at 4:35 a m after passing 61 bills in the 12 hour period without killing a single measure Most of the measures got by without a negative vote

Two measures which heretofore have caused untold debate — the bill to increase the number of state highway patrolmen and that to refund county and state highway bonds slipped through with only a minimum number of votes in opposition

The refunder proposal would permit county commissioners to refund outstanding highway bonds beginning Jan 1 1935 with monies coming to the county from its share of the motor vehicles license tag fees

It now goes to the house

The refunding of these bonds is entirely within the discretion of the county commissioners The funds would be available if the bill becomes a law since a present act which allows counties to divert this money for county operating expenses and poor relief expires on Dec 31 The counties have available 47 per cent of all the motor vehicle taxes collected approximately $18 000 000 a year and they would be permitted to use 52 per cent of this amount for the refunding of the bonds

It is estimated that if the commissioners take advantage of the refunding proposal that more than $30 000 000 in outstanding bonds might be refunded Twenty one senators voted for and three against

Those voting against the bill were Senators Mauzler W Lipscher of Mahoning and Edward N Waldvogel of Hamilton both

PATMAN BLOC READY TO GET BONUS VETO

Express Confidence They Have Picked Up Some Votes To Override

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 16—Expressing confidence that they had picked up some votes a date supporters of the Patman bonus bill decided today to let it go to the White House for President Roosevelt's veto

Senator Thomas Democrat of Oklahoma said he would withdraw his motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill was passed which has kept it tied up in the senate for more than a week with an understanding that the crucial vote to override the President's veto will not come until next week

Meanwhile the White House announced *definitely President Roose*velt will veto the Patman bonus bill

It also was emphasized that it was the earnest hope of the President that congress will support the veto

This notice was given through his secretary Stephen Early in response to published statements that some administration leaders might like to see the veto overridden for political purposes

"I will say as definitely as I can said Early "that the President is not interested in the bonus because of political reasons or political expediency He will veto the bill passed by congress"

In his message he will present as forceful an argument as he has and it is his earnest hope that congress will support the veto" Early added

As to the stand in congress for or against the veto the White House said all it knew was what was published in the newspapers, Latest published reports were said to indicate the veto would be upheld in the senate.

LEAGUE LEADER ATTACKS DUCE

Viscount Cecil of Britain Denounces War Like Attitude Toward Ethiopia

CITES REICH DENUNCIATION

Points to Inconsistency in Criticizing Germany as Troops Move Into Africa.

By The Associated Press

LONDON May 16 — Viscount Premier Mussolini for his Ethiopian policy declared today Italy could not fairly criticize German rearmament if she ignored her own League of Nations vows

It is impossible to claim respect for the collective system in the north and flout it in the south said Lord Cecil who is president of the League of Nations union

Nor can a unilateral breach of part five of the treaty of Versailles (the military clauses) be justly condemned unless equal sanctity is admitted for part one which contains the covenant of the league

Cites Stresa Agreement

Cecil directed Italy's attention to the fact that Mussolini had adhered to the Stresa resolution supporting collective maintenance of peace within the framework of the League of Nations

The circumstances of the Italo-Ethiopian situation said the famous peace advocate cause him to look anxiously to the coming meeting of the league council"

Lord Cecil delivered his attack soon after the government called home Sir Eric Drummond the British ambassador to Rome to report on the outcome of recent Anglo French overtures for peaceful settlement of the east African dispute

It was indicated that Great Britain is determined to continue her efforts to avert hostilities between Italy and the African kingdom in spite of Il Duce's warning that the other powers must not interfere with his projects in east Africa

The question of whether Great Britain might close the Suez canal and British ports to Italian war ships and transports was receiving increased attention among liberal and labor political circles

SHIFTING OF MONEY FOR RELIEF OKAYED

Supreme Court Upholds Diversion of Auto Tag Fees for Needy

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O May 16—A new source of funds for financing relief for the state's 1 700 000 needy was open to Ohio todayy

Ruling that there is no constitutional provision requiring the legislature to apply an increase exclusive for the use of those who pay it the supreme court yesterday upheld the diversion of automobile license fees

The decision, concurred in unanimously by the court, paves the way *for use of license fees for poor re*lief and purposes other than for roads and streets

C C Stillman, federal relief administrator for Ohio interpreted the decision to mean "that more money at the option of the legislature, will be made available for Ohio relief, in cooperation with the federal relief administration"

By affirming the appellate court of Hamilton county, the supreme court ruled against William T Calerdine, who as a taxpayer instituted a suit against Hamilton county officials contesting diversion.

Parochial Aid and Foundation Programs Now Go To Lower Chamber and Their Fate Doubtful.

LATTER IS ALTERED

House Must Concur To Effect Enactment; Budget Cut $35,000 Below $131,000 Davey Asks.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O May 16 Three controversial legislative issues were in new hands today

Before the senate was the $33,000,000 biennial budget bill carrying house approval Upon it rests operations of the state government for the next two years

Faced with the problem of raising $11,000,000 to finance them, the two school issues the foundation program and the parochial school denominational college bill awaited house action

Minus $35,000 of the $131,000 requested by Gov Davey for office expenses the budget bill was adopted by the house by a vote of 100 to 8

Budget Future in Doubt

With adjournment scheduled for today it was still a matter of conjecture just what the senate would do if anything with the budget. Generally it considered it several days in committee

Although approved by the house, the foundation measure was drastically amended in the senate and strong opposition is expected to forestall concurrence

Promise of a stiff fight also is seen when proponents and opponents of the parochial denomination school issue clash For several years it has been a legislative bugaboo

These issues are the most important facing the two houses but a flood of minor legislation is piled up behind them

There is little likelihood that all of it will be cleared away before midnight when adjournment is effective under a resolution adopted by both houses two weeks ago

Will Stick to Job

Consequently the legislators probably will "cover" the clock and remain on the job until a majority of the work is finished, about Saturday Sine die adjournment is set for next Thursday

With 17 votes required the senate adopted 17 to 15 the bill to give parochial schools $4,000,000 and denominational colleges $2,000,000 It is sponsored by Sen John A Davis Democrat of Cuyahoga

For elementary school pupils the parochial schools would receive $17 each and $25 for high school pupils An attempt to eliminate the $50 a year aid for each college student was defeated

Sen John A Lloyd cast the only

House Approves Liquid Fuel Tax

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O May 16 Ohio's 1 cent liquid fuel tax would be reenacted as a permanent levy under a $40,000,000 road assessment refunder bill approved by the house, 88 to 32 today

The measure would provide for cancellation and for refunding over a period of 10 years of all assessments for state highways made before July 25 1929. No assessments have been made since that time

To finance the refunds the measure which now goes to the senate provides for reenactment of the liquid fuel tax after Dec 31 when the present tax expires.

The refunder is different from the Armbruster road refunding bill passed in the senate last night. That measure provides for the highway department to take over assessment bonds which have not yet been paid

Under the refunder measure 25 per cent of the revenue from the liquid fuel tax or about $2,600,000 a year would be used to make the assessment refunds 15 per cent or $1,600,000 would go to the highway department for maintenance and repair 18 per cent or $1,800,000 to each of municipalities on the basis of motor vehicle registration and to counties in equal amounts of about $20,000 to $30,000 each and 22½ per cent to townships in equal amounts of $1,300 to $1,400 each

TRIPLE DISTILLATION

Chemists, analyzing this new X-70, find it unique because its distillation range provides more usable energy, greater actual driving power in every gallon. This extra energy means more miles-per-gallon, and a consequent lowering of driving costs.

Many of the gasoline improvements of recent years have been made at the sacrifice of long mileage qualities.

Thanks to Triple Distillation, Standard Oil is now able to put longer mileage in the new X-70, without any sacrifice of other qualities. On the contrary, the extra energy now in X-70 actually improves all-around performance—gives you swifter pick-up, higher cruising speed, easier, smoother hill climbing power than you've had before!

TECHNICALLY SPEAKING—

Gasoline, as contained in the natural crude oil, has several distinct component parts or zones. These parts or zones are not naturally arranged in proper proportion for most efficient use.

To increase the parts representing anti-knock, volatility, and acceleration, sacrifice has generally been made of heavier molecules which represent mileage and hill climbing power.

By a new process of fractionation selection, Standard Oil now withdraws from the gasoline an intermediate part which is recracked and made more volatile and then reinserted into the gasoline. This makes it possible also to reinsert into the gasoline a larger part of the heavier molecules representing mileage and power than could otherwise be carried in a gasoline of modern requirements.

SEE HOW NEW X-70
CUTS DRIVING COSTS!

Without accurate instruments it is difficult for motorists to compare various gasoline qualities. But you can test miles-per-gallon. On such a test we feel sure that you will prove to yourself the unsurpassed quality of Triple-Distilled X-70 not only in mileage, but in all other important qualities.

A Big, Happy Family.

Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator and key man in the new public works program, is coming to Ohio, May 24, to make a speech. As a prominent member of the national Democratic administration, he should rate a rousing welcome. Instead, he faces arrest on Gov. Davey's order. Last March, when Mr. Hopkins and the governor were airing their difficulties, the latter threatened to have Mr. Hopkins arrested on a libel charge if he came to this state.

Gov. Davey is a Democrat. He claims to be a good one. His organization is as devoted to President Roosevelt as it is to Gov. Davey. Mr. Hopkins, on the other hand, is not what one would call a good Democrat. He is known better as a good new dealer, which makes him stand closer to President Roosevelt than a merely good Democrat, like Sen. Glass, for instance, is able to stand.

Here is an interesting example of the internal friction which is becoming more embarrassing to the Roosevelt administration every day. There is a conspicuous lack of political cohesiveness. Members of the administration apparently think no more of pinning the lie on each other than upon members of the opposition. President Roosevelt, with a nominal powerhouse at his command in congress, seems unable to find the combination. He is having as much trouble with a Democratic majority as many Presidents have had with an opposition majority. The threatened fiasco which hinges on Mr. Hopkins' visit May 24 and the open quarrel over relief administration which lies behind it give weight to the observation that the Democratic party is in far graver danger of extinction than the Republican party.

Untied.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau was expected to say something important Monday night in a radio address. Perhaps he did, but his listeners aren't sure what it was.

There was nothing new or important in his observation that the dollar is sound. Many new deal spokesmen have been saying the same thing. It is the kind of reassurance which heartens every one but the citizen who is doubtful.

Neither was there anything new in the declaration that new deal monetary policy is safe and sound, that it was justified at the beginning and will come out vindicated at the end. Citizens who believe that never doubted the policy.

The most apparent purpose of the address was to put the government on record as being receptive to any stabilization move originating abroad. Mr. Morgenthau said:

"The world should know that when it is ready to seek foreign exchange stabilization, Washington will not be an obstacle. Our position was that of an innocent bystander who suffered untold loss in a fight which he did not start and from which he could not escape. We [illegible] no more than was necessary and we had no other way. Our hands are untied."

Possibly that may be intensely significant to some other governments, but the impression one gets of Mr. Morgenthau's address is that he was making it under orders and not because he had anything he really wanted to say. At least he said nothing which hadn't been expressed or clearly implied before.

All in the Viewpoint.

In May, 1933, cooperation was the keynote. Business and government were going to [illegible] and pull the country out of the depression [illegible].

In May, 1934, business and government were [illegible] each other [illegible] learned certain things about the other [illegible].

In May, 1935, business and government were talking about each other instead of cooperating. On May 2 [illegible] Henry I. Harriman, late president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, put the case squarely before an audience in these words:

"We find a growing spirit of [illegible] new deal measures not only from [illegible] but all walks of life. No longer is partisanship adjourned. No longer do all classes of our people rally to his standard as they did when we were in the depths of the depression. This active discussion of current problems, this keen difference of opinion is, to my mind, evidence of real recovery and an indication that the crisis in our economic life is past."

In other words, government and business are cooperating now by not cooperating. [illegible] depends on the viewpoint.

State of Mind.

[illegible] conditions, [illegible] suggests. He [illegible] as [illegible]. One has its source in confidence, the other has its source in lack of confidence.

Increasing the amount of money and [illegible] for public use [illegible] produce better conditions. Without [illegible] money and credit will not be [illegible]. Inflationists [illegible] the failure of money to circulate [illegible] because there isn't more of it.

[illegible] to make it [illegible] confidence in it. [illegible] the public will accept [illegible] the same good faith [illegible] to be of definite value. Up to a certain point their assumption seems to be correct. They are unable to comprehend, however, that confidence in money values is [illegible] of a state of mind like confidence in banks.

Artificial inflation cannot be induced by one act. It is a cumulative process. One experiment with money follows another. Each has some effect. But inflationists never are satisfied. Finally, the total of their efforts is sufficient to destroy confidence and the experiment gets out of control. That, of course, is the worst that can happen. The best that can happen is a deliberate destruction of values for the benefit of debtors, including the government whose deficit usually is the real cause of inflation.

The turning point of the government's experimentation cannot be ascertained. It probably will not be the inflationary Patman bill but it might be. The tragedy of the situation is that inflationists don't know where the turning point is. They won't be able to discover it until they have undermined confidence in money values. No sensible person can give their blind experimentation his approval.

The Keynes Schedule.

Some day it may be known how seriously President Roosevelt listened to the ideas of J. M. Keynes, British economist who advocates public expenditures to hasten recovery, as well as to prevent depressions.

The Keynes schedule of spending for the United States named $400,000,000 monthly as the proper amount. To reach that amount, it would be necessary for the Roosevelt administration to spend virtually all of the $4,880,000,000 appropriated in the work relief bill in 12 months.

That is not the present plan. The work relief bill authorizes expenditure of the sum before June 30, 1937. Divided into monthly portions, it would be not $400,000,000 a month but only half that much. Actually, it would be less than the average emergency expenditure each month of the present fiscal year. For the first 10 months the treasury lists $2,892,000,000 as emergency expenditures—an average of almost $290,000,000 a month.

The obvious difficulty in the Keynes theory is finding the exact amount necessary to produce recovery. It cannot be assumed that if $400,000,000 a month would be enough, $200,000,000 would do half as much good. On the contrary, less than the whole amount might do no good at all. If something costs $4, spending $2 on it won't buy it. In all probability, therefore, the United States never will know whether Mr. Keynes was right or wrong, or whether his advice was taken, or whether not enough was spent or whether too much was spent. It will know only one thing for certain: it piled up a huge deficit.

OHIOANS ON PARADE.

One of the happiest and probably one of the proudest moments in the life of Rutherford B. Hayes, nineteenth President of the United States, whose birthplace was Delaware, was the impromptu organization of an "Ohio Delegation" in a political parade honoring Henry Clay at Boston.

The future President, then a law student at Cambridge, met several other Ohio born men while standing in front of the Tremont House watching the parade, and in a jest suggested that it needed an Ohio delegation to make its success complete. Suiting the action to the words he fashioned a rude banner from the edge of a board on which he painted the word "Ohio."

The little group "fell in" with the procession and as the marchers continued down the street other "Ohio" men joined their ranks until when the procession halted on Boston Common the delegation numbered 14 men and was one of the most conspicuous in the line.

Two outstanding gestures of naivete historians should not neglect in their glossary of what has been otherwise a shamefully immodest era: Lindbergh stepping from his plane in Paris with "I am Charles Lindbergh," and the father of the Dionne quintuplets writing a newspaper to inquire the price of a birth announcement.

Dave and his Blue Room on Seventh avenue are symbolical of the uncertainties of Broadway catering. Dave's original place was modestly comfortable and prospered feeding a strictly Broadway clientele. So properous indeed that after several years he decided on a grandiloquent splurge, closing for a few weeks to change his plain facade into a mirrory, chromium dazzle. The interior became just as glossy, accentuated by sprays of indirect lights. But in the short interval of refurbishing Broadway forgot. In no time the new place dwindled into bankruptcy. It hangs on and Dave is hopeful but will never close for repairs again.

And there is dormancy, too, in an entirely different stratum. Sutton Place is marking time in its march to the Mayfair heights. It bloomed suddenly in slum squalor like a lily in the bog. Several magnificent apartments went up and long ago brick residences were done over in black, with brightly colored doors, brass knockers, Venetian blinds and featuring white picket fences. Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Anne Morgan, Lawrence Tibbett, Miriam Hopkins and other headline names moved in—and a mild boom was on. But somehow things came to a stop. Sutton Place is still there and quite swank, but also quite unboomed.

Behind The News In

Washington And Wall Street

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 16—Money men have been wondering why Mr. Morgenthau suddenly developed a radio urge to express himself about the American dollar. No one has asked him about it lately. Heretofore he has touched this suject only with a ten-foot pole. The fact that he arranged radio time to unburden himself before the world has spawned a rumor that an international money agreement may be reached before the disintegration of what is left of the gold bloc. This does not appear to be true.

Alibi

What seems to have happened is that Mr. Morgenthau secretly and unofficially sounded out some of the nations on stabilization and found them in a very disagreeable mood. There are reasons for suspecting Britannia flatly snubbed Mr. Morgenthau's indirect feelers on more than one occasion, the last of which was recent.

The failure of these moves left Mr. Morgenthau standing in the middle of the car tracks of the world, alone with his dollar, a much misunderstood man. The simplest solution was to remove from himself the blame for continuing unsettled currencies by a public statement.

This seems to be about all there was to it.

Ratio

The gold-silver ratio in Mr. Morgenthau's address seemed to be about 99 to 1. At least 99 per cent of his address related to gold and 1 per cent to silver. All he said about Father Coughlin's metal was: "We are also endeavoring to restore silver to greater usefulness as a monetary metal." Do not be fooled into suspecting from this that the treasury is getting ready to ease down on its silver policy. The silver politicians know different.

Ghoulish Diplomacy

The warmth of life had not left the body of Marshal Pilsudski (Poland's George Washington) before the politicians of Europe started grabbing at Poland.

Herr Hitler moved first by sending condolences before any one else could. That was not all. His diplomatic sorrow for Poland had to be spectacular, so his right-hand-holder, Goering, the man of many uniforms, was designated, along with two Nazi generals, to attend the funeral. State Secretary Meissner was sent to the Polish legation to see that Hitler's name appeared first in the condolence book. Then came the climax when Hitler announced he would enter a disapproved church to attend memorial services. The answer is that Hitler is playing energetically against France and the Russians for Polish support.

Old Pilsudski was very adept in this situation. He played with Hitler one day and France the next. Now there is danger that his successors may not be as shrewd. That means trouble.

Politics

The right key to the Farley matter seems to rest in the unspoken attitude of the Progressive Republicans. They said privately that they thought Huey Long had a very weak case against the postmaster general. But they all dislike Farley and voted for a senatorial investigation of him because they hope it would uncover something better.

Political pressure was strong on the other side of the aisle. In fact it was so strong that Huey quietly released a few of his own Democratic friends. His move was lost anyway. There was no need to save them embarrassment by requiring them to vote with him. Two absented themselves, two others voted against him and one who had publicly announced his support of Huey also voted against him.

This probably will take the [illegible] from the [illegible] of the Farley [illegible] matters of patronage [illegible].

Cost

President Roosevelt's special cabinet committee is trying to find out how much [illegible] the processing tax [illegible] The AAA [illegible] to the fact that the tax is not 4.2 cents per pound of cotton and contend it is negligible as a price factor in a cotton shirt. Textile men have a different view. They say it is not so much the tax as the mark-ups as cloth passes through various processes. The only real data were dug up by the federal trade commission some time ago. They indicate the processing tax adds about 10 per cent to the cost of cotton goods. In other words, a $1 shirt will cost $1.10 due to the tax.

Notes

Auto production for this month has been ruined by the strike. The output of one low-priced car dropped two-thirds in one week.

By JAMES McMULLIN

NEW YORK, May 16—The Banking Act of 1933 slammed the door on security dealing by J. P. Morgan & Co. and other private banks. An unopposed and almost unnoticed provision in Title III of the current banking bill reopens it at least part way. Private banking houses will be allowed to underwrite federal, state and municipal securities—and bonds of such government agencies as the federal land banks and the Home Owners' Loan corporation—on the same terms as national banks.

Moreover an amendment has been proposed which would swing the door wide again by permitting banking institutions to underwrite and wholesale all types of securities. They would not be permitted to retail. This would put Morgan's back exactly where it was before. The house never did any retailing anyway.

Is this amendment the fruit of a subtle Wall Street plot? Not exactly. It is privately sponsored by such thoroughly new deal agencies as the treasury, the federal reserve board and the securities commission. The White House attitude is unknown. The point is that the revival of corporate financing the government wants is handicapped by the absence of underwriting capital locked up in banks by the present law.

Forbidden

You might think investment houses would be perturbed by the threat of competition from bigger fish in the financial pond. Quite the contrary. Their resources are ample for retailing but it's too much of a stretch to underwrite large issues. They would welcome bank collaboration in this respect and they would still have the retail field to themselves. Revival of Morgan participation in security underwriting would practically guarantee a marked jump in new capital offerings to the benefit of all dealers.

Moreover the investment firms would much rather have the bankers in on the game this way than grabbing off their business through the side door as at present. Sinclair Consolidated Oil's decision to refund $[illegible] of bonds with bank loans is the latest example of this. The banks in their eagerness to find a use for idle funds are offering money to corporations of sound credit standing cheaper than they can get it in an open market security issue, for periods as long as five years. That really does get under the regular dealers' skin.

Permission to banks to wholesale and underwrite doesn't connote a return to boom-day abuses. The big trouble then was in the retail end which will remain forbidden fruit.

Independent

Here's the lowdown on that "suppressed" social security report turned in by Roper's advisory council. Three members of the council were appointed to draft it. They made no pretense of knowing much about the question and hired an outside expert to prepare it. He did so and they signed it. But it hadn't been coordinated—or even compared—with other government studies on the subject and was so at variance with them that the President decided not to make it public except as part of a larger picture.

Informed New Yorkers understand the White House feels the advisory council has misapprehended its true function. It's supposed to advise the President—not to act as an independent agency free to publish its own conclusions on its own responsibility. The point is made that a committee named by the president of a corporation to counsel him on certain matters doesn't air its opinions without his consent.

A number of council members disagree with this interpretation. They want to be free to criticize as well as approve—and to express their ideas to congress and the public as well as to the White House. Moreover some of them are furious because their group was made to appear in opposition to the Chamber of Commerce—whereas they actually agree with the Chamber on most issues. There's still hot talk about the council dissolving itself unless it's allowed to take an independent position openly, but chances are the misunderstandings will be ironed out and the council will continue.

Logical

There's a solid background to the Ham-Fish-for-President move. A large amount of money is available to back him as a candidate. He has the staunch support of some of the fine old New York families—who see in him a worthy apostle of true Americanism. Also some big industrialists are well sold on him.

Not that Fish—or any other easterner will be the Republican nominee for President next year. But watch for a strong campaign to build him as big a following as possible. It may register well. Veterans are expected to go for him because of his Americanization activities in the American Legion.

A successful drive on these lines would serve a useful purpose from the conservative viewpoint. It would make him the logical man to be named for the vice presidency and thus head off the disturbing aspect of John G. Winant of New Hampshire in that post. Winant is altogether too pro-labor to suit big timers behind the G. O. P. scenes.

Difficult

Charles R. Gay—new president of the Stock Exchange—will spare no effort to put his outfit in right again with the public. One reason he is naming an executive assistant to handle details is to leave himself free to act as good will ambassador.

Mr. Gay didn't wait until he took office to start his campaign for a better understanding. In the past month he has written hundreds of letters to people in different sections of the country asking why the Exchange was in wrong with their fellow-citizens. It's reported that one of the chief grievances expressed was the fact that the Exchange is located in New York. That's a disease the new president will find it difficult to cure.

Sidelights

Brokers say the public has come back in the market the last couple of weeks. Activity in the $5.00 stocks is an indication....New Yorkers with Mexican investments are worried. There are signs that the Mexican government plans to go much further to the left.... Good crops on the Pacific Coast would modify the terms of at least two railroad reorganizations.

In Ohio History

(From the J. H. Galbraith collection of Ohio histories, written for The Associated Press.)

EARLY INDUSTRIES.

The first movement in the production of iron in Ohio took place in a section of the state where the industry still is notable—the Mahoning valley.

Although the Hanging Rock district on the Ohio river once was noted for its iron production, and especially for the quality of its iron, the limited amount of ore at hand and the increased expense of reducing it long ago made the district negligible as an iron producing center. It is a singular fact that the establishment of iron furnaces in the Mahoning valley and the beginning of the mining of coal there also were simultaneous. Thus the two principal factors in the great iron and steel industry that now makes that valley famous came at the same time.

Arthur Brisbane's News Review

PHELPS ADAMS [illegible] Dewart, from Washington, [illegible] that reads, boiled down:

"The apparent indifference [illegible] the Roosevelt administration toward the probable passage [illegible] Patman bonus bill over the President's veto is explained by [illegible] that the President would [illegible] to have the bill passed [illegible] veto."

Mr. Phelps Adams hears [illegible] the White House would [illegible] passage of the bill 'for [illegible] reasons.'"

There might be other [illegible]. The President does not [illegible] political reasons? He [illegible] pledged to a veto and [illegible] lighted to see the soldiers [illegible] money in spite of it.

It is the opinion of this [illegible] that the President would [illegible] see the bonus paid to the [illegible] and that it would suit him [illegible] to pay the bonus without [illegible] two thousand two hundred [illegible] dollars on money lenders [illegible] that much to the taxpayers [illegible].

The President and others [illegible] be interested in a letter [illegible] from James Cromwell, able [illegible] American, at present flying [illegible] or near the Himalayan [illegible] with his beautiful young [illegible] was Miss Doris Duke.

The intelligent young American writes as follows about [illegible] the debt by insisting on bonds:

"In your able criticism of [illegible] government bond absurdities [illegible] never seen you make the following comment, which to me is [illegible] the most damning [illegible] against present financial [illegible] —viz: The sole purpose of the [illegible] suance of interest-paying bonds [illegible] the government is to avoid increasing the total quantity of the people's money. Under our system, of course, the government turns these bonds over to banks to issue money against them: thus the government pays the bankers to do that which the government itself pays [illegible] to avoid doing. Heavens, what a racket!"

How does that impress our "best minds" with the pawnbroker [illegible] plex? And what answer would they make to it?

Less Brain, Better Mind

This may be important. A young woman has had removed almost "the entire thinking portion of her brain," including the "entire right prefrontal lobe and most of the left lobe." These masses of "gray matter" are supposed to be the "seat of reason, logic and intelligence." Some believe these lobes affect personality.

The result of the operation, performed upon a woman of foreign birth, with a tumor on the brain, has been extraordinary beneficial. The patient has improved mentally, her intellectual energy has been increased and her character greatly improved.

Who knows what will be done in future by scientists, exploring the brain, cutting out unfortunate heredity, and possibly making room for and building up better parts of the brain?

Many have a depression at the top of the skull, at or near the spot that must never be pressed in the case of a young baby. Much good might be done by experimenting with such skull depressions, removing them, allowing the top of the brain, supposed seat of imagination, power and reverence, to develop fully.

Earhart and the Bottle

Amelia Earhart Putnam, who owns, but does not claim, the title "best flier in America, man or woman," is not a good shot with champagne bottles.

She tried to christen a new airplane, "hurled" the bottle and missed. The second time she broke the bottle and released the [illegible].

There are more important things than knowing how to throw a champagne bottle. Miss Earhart, who drinks nothing with alcohol in it, started from Hawaii [illegible] to this country, over 2,400 miles of Pacific Ocean water, and she did not miss the road. When, the other day, she flew from Mexico City to New York, first man or woman that ever did it, in one hop and alone, she found her way across seven hundred miles of the Gulf of Mexico, and above [illegible] some forests. Incidentally, between Mexico City and Washington she beat Colonel Lindbergh's time by fourteen hours and [illegible] distance by continuing on [illegible] Washington to New York.

Such an American girl need not know how to throw a champagne bottle, especially when she has an ideal husband.

Titles Still Liked

Primitive human beings like bright colors, brass bands and titles. Even in America, where we thought, in 1776, that we had titles, royalty and all the rest of it, we have come back to titles. To be the "past grand master" or "high lord potentate" of something or other is soothing.

In bolshevist Russia, titles and decorations creep back. Opening the new subway in Moscow, revealing its checkerboard granite, marble columns and pink [illegible] Joseph Stalin awarded the "Order of Lenin" to young Communists especially energetic in construction work.

The French have a saying "The more it changes, the more it is the same thing." That applies to human nature.

No Grounds

Chicago newspapers said that a young girl in the University of Chicago had heard a professor say in class that he was "in favor of free love." Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, head of the university, [illegible]:

"I call your attention [illegible] statement of the professor [illegible] 'As a married man with children, I obviously am not a believer in free love.'"

[illegible] with the instinct which [illegible] possess that every gesture of the women sit[illegible] her was false insin[illegible] her father simple [illegible] and trusting should [illegible] it was not so sur[illegible] he had a reverent respect [illegible] women which would make [illegible] prey He was laughing [illegible] unconscious that there was any [illegible] between these two women whom he loved

"It's [illegible] do any[illegible] He's going [illegible] marry [illegible] must [illegible] him see [illegible] thought [illegible] son [illegible] her fat[illegible] polite smile And turned bac[illegible] meet two dark eyes filled with malice

It was gone in a flash replaced by a wide smile on the magenta lips but the girl knew If Robert Rede had seen nothing Mrs Sumers had

She thought despairingly "Now she will hate me"

"Tea Alison" Even the gesture [illegible] he [illegible] know he [illegible] She [illegible] he[illegible] as [illegible] He leaned over [illegible] his [illegible] on the [illegible] what [illegible] and [illegible] these an[illegible] dresses that she wears

I think that's wonderful [illegible]

'Daphne's asking if you want cream '

with which Mrs Sumers held the big silver tea pot up was graceful and studied the picture of an affectionate woman welcoming a step child

Please Try as she would Alison could not [illegible] even in her voice She felt lost and strange as she sat down From the time she was 8 she had always sat there in that chair by the fire whenever they were at home since the days when she had needed both hands to lift up the heavy tea pot

But this time Robert Rede was not allowed to miss the chill note in the girl's voice could not since Daphne Sumers underlined it with an appealing glance at him

I'm doing my best that swift glance said She won't respond Aloud she murmured in a soft and whining tone Cream?

Alison

The girl had never heard her father speak in that annoyed voice to her before She started

Yes?

Daphne's asking you if you want cream His tone reproved her sharply

I'm sorry I thought you were asking father Alison took her cup quickly Yes cream please

Lucky baby Daphne Sumers was acidly sweet I wish I dared drink all that cream But at your age What are you? Seventeen?

Eighteen and a half

You don't look it Does she?

I suppose she doesn't he agreed doubtfully as if this new view of his daughter surprised him I suppose she is rather young

A mere baby Again there was no more than a flash of malice in the dark eyes Never mind Now that you're old enough to think of going to dances we must do something about it I've the most marvellous dressmaker my dear She'll do wonders for your figure—it's her speciality smoothing out the gawky line—and Antoine of course for your face You know I'm going to enjoy dressing you far better than I do dressing myself

Alison glanced at her father He was beaming his eyes adoring the woman by the fire She thought bitterly He doesn't see He's eating every word of it thinking how kind she is

Mrs Sumers finished triumphantly Bob when I'm done with her she said aloud and prayed that the lie might not sound as bad as it felt

Ah I have to That's the secret Again the whining note the note of a beggar crept into Mrs Sumers's voice grating atrociously on the girl's nerves You see I haven't a penny in the world so I must use my fingers and my brains

She was smiling at Robert he was smiling back at her

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

Jack Leslie's Name Enters Discussion of Strange Man.

I [illegible] head as [illegible] Katherine's [illegible] Why [illegible] with [illegible]ottes

[illegible] I said How did you know I was going over this awful time?"

[illegible] momentary Water [illegible] By the [illegible] eyes and the groan that [illegible] came from the soles of [illegible] be[illegible] we were talking [illegible] Mary's exp[illegible] as the missed [illegible] That is inevitably [illegible] our minds with the [illegible] of [illegible] Draper's [illegible] Dicky and throw the [illegible] you [illegible] took what wonderful [illegible] came out of that near tragedy

I looked at her [illegible] I was [illegible] obsessed by the memory of the [illegible] month [illegible] which had been mine and Dicky's after that awful time to be able to speak coherently To me that lack of faith on his part had been the almost unforgivable sin which had well nigh quenched the flame of my love reducing it indeed to a heap of embers which had taken long weary months to rekindle

I would have believed him guiltless I had told myself with [illegible] he had himself held a poisoned draft to my lips I could have forgiven anything else in him save a lack of faith in me

Points Out Benefits.

Have you forgotten" Katherine asked sharply and I knew that she was trying to exorcise the anguished thoughts which were gripping me In the first place that arch mistress of Hades Grace Draper finally took herself out of this world and your life

By that final act of a long and checkered career she made it possible for you and Dicky to sleep at night without feeling that the original Damoclelian sword was suspended over your heads

[illegible] Secondly she said look at what Mary salvaged out of the mess A perfectly good husband who has adored her ever since he first saw her dancing in that club where he was playing

Thirdly she rushed on and you will forgive me for putting my rude hands upon sacred things but I think you need the reminder I don't believe your love and Dicky's would ever have become the well nigh beautiful comradeship that it is without that awful experience It was [illegible] fire if ever a married love was

It came very nearly being consumed I said feeling better now that I could use my voice

Truce to Memories

I know but it didn't she said and something in her voice made me realize remorsefully that this discussion of my solved marriage problems could not help but remind her painfully of the marital maze in which she herself was groping

With a mighty effort I put memories of my own past suffering behind me put my attention wholly upon the problem which this entrance of the mysterious disguised man might have upon Mary's welfare

A truce to memories I said except those that are related to our present problem I cannot help wondering what Jean le [illegible] John the Ham may mean

Was there anybody named John at that night club where Mary was dancing she asked

I struck my hands together in exasperation at my own stupidity

How blind I've been I said but softly for I would not for world have had Mary overheard the name that was on my lips There was no John but there was Jack Leslie

It was Katherine's turn to evince chagrin

Of course she said He probably still holds a grudge against Mary and while I never saw him I fancy the name he gave himself apparently in mockery described him accurately

Was Clever Dancer

No it didn't I answered grudgingly for I hated to credit Jack Leslie with anything He was an unusually clever dancer and if he hadn't been so utterly evil he would have been a most attractive chap He had brains good looks grace and a certain charm

He sounds like the answer to a movie maiden's prayer Katherine commented They like em bad Tell me I never have been wholly informed upon that point Did Mary really fall for him?

Indeed she didn't I said rushing staunchly to Mary's defense She was [illegible] by the [illegible] and [illegible] she gave he[illegible] [illegible] was [illegible] in love with him

[illegible] to the good [illegible] me some[illegible] is more do[illegible] [illegible] I have given you [illegible] that of Jack Leslie

Summer Ills

During the hot months various discomforts and ailments are sure to arise For example summer diarrhea is frequently encountered in young children Nursing infants as well as children between the ages of two and five years are particularly susceptible to this complaint

It is a common belief that summer diarrhea can be prevented But sometimes despite every precaution the child suffers from the disorder Usually it can be traced to some irregularity in the diet or from a change in the milk supply

In some instances it may result from a localized infection of some sort. It may come from enlarged and diseased tonsils and adenoids or an infection of the ears nose or throat The germs are carried to the intestine where they set up marked irritation and inflammation Diarrhea may occur as a complication of some constitutional disorder

Because of the absorption of toxins or poisons from the intestinal tract the child runs a high fever and appears extremely ill In very young children diarrhea is a serious ailment and should never be neglected Inadequate care of the young infant with this disorder may result in grave complications

It is always best to consult a physician He will [illegible] you and [illegible] the [illegible] treatment As a rule solid [illegible] should be avoided

In severe cases of summer diarrhea where the child has lost considerable loss of fluid it may be necessary to replace this fluid by the injection of sterile water Of course this should only be resorted to when advised by the physician Sometimes forced feeding may be necessary to maintain the strength and vitality of the young sufferer

As soon as the diarrhea has disappeared and the temperature is normal it is advisable slowly to increase the amount of food Skimmed milk junket small quantities of bread egg and jello are first given This is followed pretty soon by a return to the normal diet

Do not assume that every case of diarrhea is "summer diarrhea" Diarrhea may be the only sign of some more serious disorder For example within recent years a large number of cases of amoebic dysentery have been reported in this country This disease was formerly believed to occur only in tropical countries It usually develops during the hot weather It is caused by a parasite and affects children as well as adults

A DAY OF excellent opportunities for stabilizing the fortunes and possessions as well as enhancing personal popularity and attaining bold ambitions is forecast from the lunar and mutual planetary aspects It is a time for forging ahead in this direction with those in power especially in big business combines or secret societies ready to give generous cooperation to solid propositions

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of great opportunity for reaching high goals But shun impulsive and rash approach to those whose assistance is desired and be particularly discreet in personal relations

A child born on this day may be ambitious efficient and sagacious in building for itself power and possessions It may be disposed to be too ardent and indiscreet in its private affiliations

AMONG the millions of women who are now using this medicated cream there are thousands of trained nurses. They are enthusiastic. [illegible] their friends [illegible] Their training has taught them what the skin needs to keep it healthy and beautiful.

Science now recognizes that many of the common skin faults come from [illegible] deep in our pores. Pimples, Blackheads, Large Pores, Oiliness, Coarseness and many other beauty destroying flaws are now traced to these invisible poisons.

Ordinary care is not enough. Soaps and creams that merely cleanse the surface fail to reach these insidious poisons. A special cream is necessary—a greaseless medicated cream that will sink into the skin, help [illegible] poisons and [illegible] irritated skin.

Snow white and dainty Noxzema Skin Cream is such a cream. It [illegible] skin [illegible] by itching irritation. Use Noxzema. Apply it at night and [illegible] the day as a foundation for [illegible].

Note how Noxzema soothes irritation—how clear, soft and lovely your skin becomes—in a few short days.

WHY THE WAR TALK?

Fear of War Spreads Through France With "German Menace" as Main Topic

[illegible] articles [illegible]

By the Associated Press

[illegible]

Old Alliances Revived

[illegible] military reprisals. Military [illegible]

France and England [illegible] pledged each other to the principle of an air accord, the modern version of the old entente, [illegible] Italy with Russia joining [illegible] a separate pact with France.

Hitler, defying [illegible] has made another scrap of paper of the vital part of the treaty of Versailles. When France and England in February declared—France and Italy had earlier—that they would refuse to countenance one-sided abrogation of treaty provisions, Hitler promptly replied with reestablishment of conscription, the creation of an air fleet and announcement that the arms part of the treaty is dead.

Arms Race in Full Swing

The arms race is on between Germany and France physically, morally and politically.

Predictions of whether or when there will be war are [illegible] by many French statesmen, although officials quite frankly say privately that war appears inevitable. They point to Hitler's book "My Fight" as proof that his program means dominating Europe and obliterating France. They remind doubters that Hitler never has repudiated that program and that "My Fight" is the Nazi textbook, read and quoted throughout Germany.

Those who fear war give these as some of the danger points:

1—The Polish corridor.

2—Anschluss, or German union with Austria.

3—Germany's demand for return of her colonies.

4—Final scrapping of the whole Versailles treaty. That would include disregard of the present demilitarized zone along Germany's western border.

Germany Seen at Bay

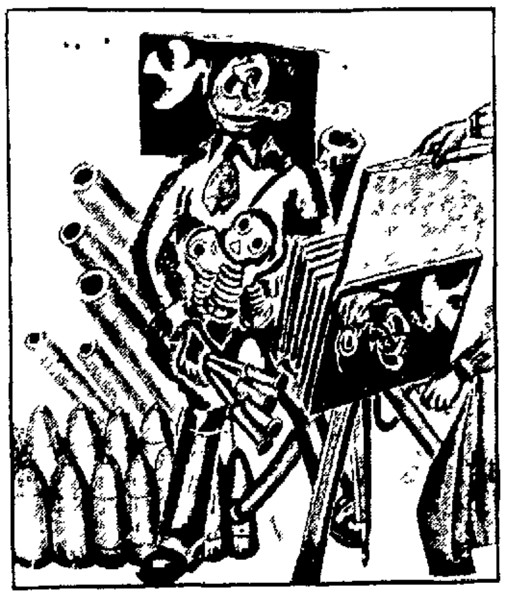
5—If France forms too many alliances there may be [illegible] to set in Germany a fear of attack. A Germany at bay might strike that sudden swift blow from the air of which there has been so much talk. There might [illegible] be swarms of planes terrorizing France with clouds of poison gas, hoping to subdue the old enemy before she could defend herself or her allies fly to her aid.

6—Finally there are those who think Alsace and Lorraine may be coveted.

Tomorrow: Russia.



That Adolf Hitler is concealing his real purpose from the world is the thesis of this cartoon by Elkins in "Aux Ecoutes," a Paris journal. It is entitled "The German Menace." The camera plate reveals that only Der Fuehrer's benignant smile and the dove of peace show in the picture as he carefully keeps his cannon and gas masks out of focus of the lens.

LEAGUE WILL FETE GREEN CAMP CLASS

The Ohio Northern gospel team will have charge of morning services and the Epworth league services in the evening at the Methodist church Sunday.

The Epworth league is celebrating the world wide Epworth league anniversary day.

PROGRAM APPROVED FOR LA RUE SCHOOL

A $3,786 repairing and decorating program for the grade school at LaRue is among a group of FERA projects approved yesterday at state relief headquarters, The Associated Press reported in a news dispatch from Columbus.

Six or seven painters, five laborers, two plasterers and three carpenters will be employed to make the improvements and work probably will continue through the summer months, Ervin Nesper, FERA works manager for Marion county, said.

Chemicals in tablet form have been [illegible] to be placed in automobile radiators to precipitate the mineral salts in the water and prevent [illegible] forming.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS TO ATTEND OUTING

Marion Group Will Go to Buckeye Lake June 15

A delegation from Marion will join hundreds of Democrats from all parts of the state at Buckeye Lake park June 15 when the League of Young Democratic clubs holds its first annual outing. Gov. Martin L. Davey will be the guest of honor.

The program, which will get under way at 2 p. m., will embrace a variety of events including a barbecue and ox roast. Prominent vaudeville and radio stars are to be featured in the entertainment. The local Younger Voters Democratic club is expected to appoint delegates within the next week.

Delayed Sunday School League Campaign Open

'Old Timers' Passing From Major Leagues Rapidly

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 16.—The "gay nineties" boys are passing—reluctantly but quickly—from major league baseball.

So heavy has been the toll exacted by Father Time that only 47 players who were born somewhere in the gay nineties remained on the active lists today when each club reduced its roster to the [illegible] limit. At least six of the "Old Men" in their late thirties were on the danger list, strenuously trying to get their aching limbs and arms for a big comeback.

With the departure of 41 year old Adolf Luque from an active player role to that of coach for the New York Giants, Walter "Rabbit" Maranville, 43 year old Boston Brave veteran, became the grand daddy of the major tossers. But the Rabbit admittedly is close to retirement because of last year's injury, coming to bat only once this season. Second in line and foremost in achievement this season among the old timers is Sad Sam Jones, 42 year old White Sox pitcher. Sad Sam has pitched 29 innings so far this season for the [illegible] losing one.

The [illegible] of 40 years and over [illegible] finishes [illegible] of Brooklyn [illegible] of the Cardinals and [illegible] who was busy [illegible] plans to [illegible] ranks for [illegible] Haines have lost [illegible] one for the Dodgers [illegible] Cardinals to date.

Five of the [illegible] ninety Boys are managers. Four of them are [illegible] players. Manager Charlie Grimm of the Cubs, born in August 1898, came out of his retirement as a player last week. Manager Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Browns is about ready to do the same thing, while Manager Bill Terry of the Giants, born in 1898, would like to quit playing. The other two active managers are Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox and Frankie Frisch of the Cards.

The National League today was twice as hospitable to the old actives as the American, keeping 18 of the Gay Ninety Boys within its ranks to only nine by the junior circuit. The two Philadelphia clubs and the New York Yankees, where youth is having its fling these days, didn't have a player left who was 36 years or older. All told there were 388 active players in the two majors today with youth crowding age so rapidly that only 7 of the old timers remained.

DRILL ARRANGED

The First Reformed church soft ball team will practice Friday night at 6 o'clock at the Steam Shovel field, Manager John Huffman announced today.

OAKLAND, CHRISTIAN TEAMS SCORE INITIAL VICTORIES OF SEASON

Epworth Bishops and Salem Battle to 1 to 1 Tie, U. B. Nine Wins

Oakland 6, Forest Lawn 2
Epworth Bishops 1, Salem 1
Christian 4, Wesley M. E. 0
U. B. 4, St. Mary No. 2, 3

After a delay of 10 [illegible] of fall at [illegible] of the [illegible] Sunday School League [illegible] yesterday to the [illegible] games in the church division of the city [illegible].

Jerome Rank's flanking of the Wesley M. E. team with a two-hit performance for the Central Christian nine was the bright spot on a program of uneventful games. Cold weather for the first postponed series cut down on the work of players and held scores to a new [illegible].

Battle To Tie

Epworth Bishops and Salem fought to a 1 to 1 deadlock in seven innings, calling the game because of the low temperature. Oakland scored a well earned victory over the Forest Lawn team and the United Brethren got away to a good start with a 4-3 victory over the St. Mary No. 2 team.

A single by Ollie Walters in the fifth and one by P. Barkley in the sixth were the only blows yielded by Rank, Central Christian hurler, who showed a marked improvement over his pitching last week for the Elks. Good support in the field aided his cause with a double play, McAninch to H. Geissler to Pollock, cutting down a threat. Doubles by McAninch and Rank brought a run in the first and second innings while a walk, two errors and two more free passes forced in two runs in the fifth.

Fadley was hit hard by the Oakland team after both clubs had scored two runs in the opening stanza. Two errors and two hits gave the winners three runs in the last inning. Snyder, expecting to take the mound tonight in the Industrial League, played at short stop.

Fans 10 Batters

The Epworth Bishops got away to an early lead against Salem by Lewis' double and Bud Cram's single scoring Lewis. Salem came back in the next frame to even the score with a walk to Ebert, a sacrifice by Layman and a single by Melvin. Neither team was able to score in the late innings as Primmer, Bishop pitcher, struck out 10 batsmen and the Methodists failed to hit.

Scores by innings:

Mondue and Maskey Face Tough Ring Foes Friday

Plenty of fistic action is expected tomorrow night at the Steam Shovel gymnasium when 38 rounds of boxing featuring ring aspirants of this district are staged on the second spring program.

Kid Mondue of Marion, who has been piling up a long string of victories, is again scheduled to appear in the main go of six rounds. He will face one of the toughest foes of the year in young Gary Akers of Lima. The Lima 142 pound boxer took the American Legion title in easy fashion and has been making an impressive record since that event.

In the semi final bout of six rounds, Bucyrus' popular young scrapper, K. O. Maskey, 158 pounds, will tackle Killer Kane of Lima. Kane, also an American Legion winner, floored Bobby Greenland of Marion in the second round at the Kenton boxing show two weeks ago.

Three other six round scraps are on the card which is expected to attract a large crowd of boxing fans from Marion and all nearby cities. Two four round bouts as a curtain raiser complete the program starting at 8:15 o'clock.

Don McAninch, Billy Wallace, Kid Stumbo and Jack Sharboreau are other Marion fighters scheduled to show their wares tomorrow night.

WESTERN TEAMS END SERIES IN CONTROL OF LEAGUE POWERS

Eastern "Home" Clubs Make Poor Showing; Indians Win, 5 to 4

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Results of the first major league intersectional series of 1935—necessarily inconclusive because of the large number of postponements—indicate the balance of power so far lies west of the Alleghenies.

Eastern home clubs of the National League were able to win only 17 games and tie one against 20 victories for the invaders. Eastern American League clubs fared even worse with 11 victories to 18 defeats. All this was in spite of a poor showing by the Reds, who won only two games and lost five, and the admitted weakness of the Browns.

Dizzy Downed

The White Sox, by trimming the Athletics 5 to 0 yesterday behind the three hit hurling of Ted Lyons, finished with six victories in eight games. The Giants, after battling to an even break with the Dean brothers of St. Louis before a banner crowd of 41,110 in the windup, won seven games and lost three in addition to tying with Cincinnati.

Two home runs by Hughey Critz off Dizzy Dean and a flock of Cardinal errors gave the Giants a 4 to 3 triumph in yesterday's opener, but Brother Paul later pitched St. Louis to victory by the same score with Jim Collins supplying the winning runs with homers.

The Tigers took their series with the East by a 5-3 margin despite a whitewashing at the hands of the Yankees yesterday, 1 to 0. Red Ruffing turned the trick, granting only six hits.

Cleveland, which lost the league lead to Chicago during the home stand, gained an even break in eight games by outlasting Washington 5 to 4 in yesterday's other American League game as Rookie Ab Wright knocked in three runs.

Boston, rained out at St. Louis, equalled the Indians' record for the best eastern showing.

Dodgers Split

The Brooklyn Dodgers, holding grimly to second place in the National League, split a doubleheader with the Cubs. After Chicago had lost a long lead and then batted Dazzy Vance for four runs in the ninth and an 8 to 4 triumph, the Dodgers came back with one brief hard thrust at Charley Root to win 3 to 1. That gave Chicago a 5-3 record in the East and Brooklyn six won and four lost.

The Pirates, who couldn't hit when they first moved East, hammered out a 20-to-5 triumph at Philadelphia in the final with the aid of homers by Gus Suhr, Woody Jensen and Arky Vaughan. It was Vaughan's seventh of the season.

Cincinnati and Boston deferred their game in favor of the opening of the Rockingham Park race track.

RECORD SCORE SET IN PISTOL MATCH

A record score for the [illegible] was hung up by the No. 2 team of the Marion Pistol association last night at the Eagles' building range as Captain Landes' team tallied 2017 points to 197[illegible] for the No. 4 outfit.

The match was close as Captain Larry Schneider's men pushed the winners to a new high mark. Landes, Foss, Groll, [illegible], Fred Norton of the winners and Schneider and Harry Smith of the losers broke the 400 mark. Landes was high with a 425.

Teams 5 and 6 will shoot at the range tonight.

BITSY GRANT IS SEEN AS DAVIS CUP CHOICE

Peppery Half Pint Tennis Star May Get Chance To Visit Europe

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 16.—This should not be read aloud because it is only being whispered by the tennis moguls of the country, but—

If Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant, Jr., the peppery half pint Atlantan, makes a good showing in the United States-Mexico Davis cup series to be played this week end in Mexico, he is virtually certain to go to England on Uncle Sam's cup squad next month. That is assuming the United States conquers Mexico.

Officials of the United States Lawn Tennis association are pleased with the way Grant performed in the preliminary series against China last week end and now the diminutive Georgian is on the spot insofar as realizing his ambition to go abroad as a member of the Davis cup team is concerned.

U. S. L. T. A. powers will say only that Grant is being given consideration for an overseas post, but the fact is the American team in all probability will comprise six members as has been announced and only five places have been filled.

Should the U. S. L. T. A. alter its original plan and reduce the international squad to five men, then there is the possibility that Bitsy will be sent abroad to play in British tournaments and on the continent, much in the same fashion the British Lawn Tennis association sent Fred J. Perry on his recently completed world tour.

Grant, who ranks 10th in the national standing, was chosen for the competition in Mexico preliminary because the matches there are being played on clay courts and he is the reigning hard surface champion of the United States.

'Old Pop' To Aid Owens Set New Record Saturday

Aged Negro N. U. Stadium Caretaker Spends Hours Preparing Runway.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 16.—Old Pop Gash, 80-year-old Negro, read in the papers that if Jesse Owens, Ohio State ebony comet, ever made a perfect take-off he would break the world's broad jump record.

Old Pop, caretaker at Dyche Stadium, Northwestern university's athletic plant, is going to see that Owens gets his chance Saturday. Owens, holder of the American record of 21 feet 1¾ inches, will make his world record breaking attempt in a quadrangular meet at Evanston involving Northwestern, Chicago, Wisconsin and the Buckeyes.

The aged Negro ground keeper has never seen the 21-year-old Owens, but when he read about his prowess in the Drake Relays, where he failed by ¾ of an inch to smash the world's mark, he resolved to have his own jumping strip in the best possible condition with the idea of helping Owens achieve his ambition.

So Old Pop has been busy for a week preparing the runway and jumping strip for Owens' anticipated record leap. He's doing the job personally for the Buckeye star's benefit. He spends hours daily dragging, rolling and screening pebbles from the runway.

"And I'll be right there pulling for him," said Old Pop today.

It was the first demonstration Miss Psche McAfee girls instruc[tor] has given in six or seven years and it was the first for D N Bohrer director of athletics

The hour and 45 minutes program gave the audience an excellent idea of what the public high school physical education program does for pupils

One hundred and eighteen girls from the [illegible] and sophomores in the classes and 31 sophomore junior and senior boys participated in the program Gym work is optional with the senior girls

Girls Open Program

The groups of [illegible] more girls opened the program with dumbbell and wand drills and two groups of junior girls gave the closing numbers a [illegible] drill and a snappy military march

The program went off in much the manner of the regular everyday gym classes with slip-ups and mistakes now and then which only gave the audience a better understanding of just how difficult were some of the events that looked easy to those who had never taken a high school gym course

The sophomore girls who opened the program were in the regulation one-piece green gym suits They gave dumbbell and wand drills done in real rhythmic timing

More strenuous was the boys part in the program Dressed in white duck trousers and white gym shirts—with the exception of the [illegible] in red—the boys went through the following events Forward roll backward [roll] low dive high dive hand spring from the knees head and handstand [illegible] head and handstand [illegible] forearm stand handspring to each stand [illegible] difficult matter of lying flat on a mat [illegible] to a standing position walking on hands [illegible] shoulder mount, shoulder stand off the knees front flip One part of their program was given to each boy's specialty and most of these acts were tumbling

Rhythm Dance

Junior girls barefooted and in nature dresses in pastel shades entertained with a group of nature rhythm movements and dances an exhibition which they seemed to enjoy as much as the audience Miss McAfee played their piano accompaniment

The last number was an Indian [illegible] and a military march by [illegible] The march was particularly colorful The girls also wore the [green] gym suits tied at the waist with wide black sashes [illegible] in bright [colors] [illegible] dressed in the pompons [illegible] black chinstraps Black oilcloth puttees and wide cuffs added to the effectiveness of their brisk demonstration June [illegible] played the march music

At the close of the program Miss McAfee was presented with flowers and a gift from her sophomore [illegible] girls and her home[room] [illegible]

A reduction [illegible] the pri[illegible] of automobile [illegible] for all [illegible] and high priced vehicles also was voted by the [illegible] without a dissenting vote [illegible] provisions of the State Pollock bill as approved by the senate the price of tags for cars up to [illegible] horse power will be $7 a year from [illegible] to 31 horsepower $10 and over 31 horsepower $16. Another provision of the bill would permit automobile owners to get their tags any time between Jan 1 and April 1. The present law requires that all plates be obtained by Jan 1.

With cries of "we need it" and "let's vote" the senate agreed with the house that it was underpaid. As a result the upper chamber passed the bill by Rep Joseph Orgin Democrat of Cuyahoga to increase the salaries of legislators from $1,000 to $2,000 a year. The pay of the lieutenant governor likewise was increased from $1,500 to $3,000 a year.

Approved by Davey

Gov Davey is understood to have said he would sign the bill if it came to his desk for approval. It probably will be sent to him some time next week. Only three votes were cast against the bill—by Senators Lloyd [illegible] Lowery of Muskingum both Republicans and James M Matthews Jr Democrat of Clark. Twenty-one members voted for it.

The state tax commission was designated as the state relief commission in a bill by Sen Frank E Whittemore Republican of Summit. The bill gives the tax commission the power to approve poor relief bond issues and to provide for the transfer of state money to the federal government and to supervise its expenditure. It now goes to the house.

In an effort to prevent gubernatorial veto the senate passed a bill to plug up loop holes in the drivers license law which is now ready for the governor's signature.

[illegible] bills which would enable [illegible] the notes to be granted by the federal government under the public works [illegible] program also were approved. One would permit the state to take advantage of some $10,000,000 [illegible] tentatively allotted to the state for grade crossing elimination and highway construction.

[illegible] creation of a state planning board along the lines of the city planning boards also was approved.

Increase Trustees Terms

[illegible] terms of township trustees would be increased from two to four years under a measure sponsored by Sen Matthews and approved by the upper house. The four year terms would start at the next general election.

A bill to repeal the excess profit tax on liquor which is now being collected by liquor permittees was adopted and is now ready for the governor. It was said the tax did not produce sufficient revenues to meet the costs of collecting it.

An effort to prevent outdoor advertising of spirituous liquors and beer was defeated and instead the senate gave approval to a house bill which permits manufacturers and distributors of beers and liquors to furnish the signs to the dispensers.

Regulation of the trading in warehouse receipts for liquor also was frowned on by the senate when it removed this provision from a bill which sought to put it under the blue sky department. Other provisions of the bill seek to strengthen various sections of the blue sky act.

[illegible] vote against the foundation [illegible] which 27 senators voted [illegible] senators were in their [illegible] for [illegible] vote.

[illegible] a minimum of $5,000,000 [illegible] than is now available for the foundation plan would [illegible] $45 for elementary school and $67.50 for high school.

[illegible] measure contains provisions for raising funds or specifies [illegible] sources to carry out the [illegible] plans.

[illegible] Lloyd's opposition was based on the contention that local districts should have the right of referendum on any plan of consolidation for reorganization of small districts.

Calls for Consolidations

As amended the bill would provide for extensive consolidations and reorganizations which Sen James Metzenbaum Democrat of Cuyahoga asserts would result in large savings.

Reps Grover Frazier Democrat of Wyandot and R J Kiefer Republican of Logan authors of the bill expressed doubt as to whether the house would concur in the amendments.

With the assertion "the present governor promises to be the most extravagant we have ever had" Rep [illegible] King Republican of [illegible] led a movement which resulted in the $35,000 cut in Davey's budget.

An attempt to double the allotment of $10,220 for the bureau of identification and classification and to compel all agricultural experiment stations to include labor costs in the costs of experiments failed. An appropriation for campus repairs at Bowling Green State college is increased from $16,000 to $26,500.

To Stagnate In House

The parochial school aid bill now goes to the house but is not expected to reach the floor before adjournment.

Davis opened the fight for the parochial bill pointing out that parochial schools are now in financial difficulties and that the persons who support parochial schools also pay taxes to help support the public schools.

"The advocates of this bill comprise one-sixth of the population of Ohio" he said. "Thus they are paying about $10,000,000 of the $60,000,000 which the sales tax is expected to raise and they are asking that only $3,000,000 be returned to them to help support their schools."

Robert A Pollock (R) of Stark leader of the fight against the bill offered an amendment to strike out the provisions granting $2,000,000 in state aid to colleges.

Says Not Wanted

"It is inconsistent of this legislature to try to force money on people who don't want it" he said. Then he read statements of presidents of eight Ohio colleges who said they would refuse to accept any state aid.

"The bill would benefit 55 colleges in Ohio" argued Davis. "Only 11 of them have protested. It is fair to assume that the remainder are in favor of this bill."

Pollock's lost 17 to 15.

"The crucial hour in Ohio is here" said Pollock in the only speech made against the bill. "You are either for the public schools or against them."

Pollock declared that Gov Davey has been moving heaven and earth to have this bill passed.

"Various members have told me of the tremendous pressure the governor has put on them to put this bill across" he added.

If the bill becomes a law he went on he would have enough signatures to referendum petitions within two weeks to prevent it from going into effect.

Claims $12,500,000 Saved

Edward N Waldvogel (D) of Cincinnati said parochial schools have saved Ohio taxpayers $12,500,000 a year excluding the capital investment in buildings that would have had to be erected if children now attending parochial schools were sent to public schools.

"We are asking for this money only for one year to relieve a temporary emergency" he said.

The full membership of the senate was present when the vote was taken. Sixteen Democrats and one Republican voted for the bill. 12 Republicans and three Democrats against it.

More than three hours of heated debate preceded the foundation bill vote in which John Lloyd (R) of Scioto was the only one to vote nay. Four senators refused to vote. They were Bart McIntyre (D) of Cuyahoga William Waldvogel (D) of Mahoning Overton Jackson (R) and William Handley (R) of Hamilton county.

The bill now goes back to the house for concurrence in amendments.

The principal fight centered on an amendment offered by Lloyd to the reorganization sections.

Declaring he feared the possibility of a school dictatorship Lloyd asked that before any reorganization plan went into effect it should [illegible] subject to a referendum vote in the districts affected upon the filing of a petition signed by 25 per cent of its voters.

Defends Home Rule

Opposing the Lloyd amendment Metzenbaum asserted that the reorganization sections provided the fullest measure of home rule since any reorganization plan would have to secure approval of the county board of education before it could be submitted to the director of education for approval.

Metzenbaum then called the roll of the school districts in Lloyd's home county of Scioto.

"There are 29 pupils in the Haverhill District of Scioto county" he said. "That means there are perhaps 50 or 60 voters in the district.

"Thus after a plan had been agreed upon that would provide the children with better education the teachers with better pay and actual pay and at the same time would result in economies a handful of voters could sign a petition and block the plan."

Lloyd replied that while it was true [illegible] of the [illegible] in his district had been receiving state aid the property tax and [illegible] themselves at le[illegible] [illegible] purposes all [illegible] eligible to receive the aid and that in one district the [illegible] tax was 17 mills.

The Lloyd amendment however was voted down 20 to 10.

The senate agreed to amendments to the Marfinger-Pollock free text book bill which would require all public schools beginning in 1936 to furnish free text books to all public school children.

Goes to Davey

The amendment agreed to [illegible] it so that no school district will be required to obtain new books in more than six subjects or replace more than [illegible] per cent of the books in any one year. The bill now goes to the governor.

Other school bills approved would:

Change the name of Kent State and Bowling Green State colleges to Kent State university and Bowling Green university.

Giving authorities of the two universities the right to issue master degrees.

Making it possible for school districts which are partially in a township and partially in a city to transfer from one to the other.

Setting up a state board of teacher certification to replace the 240 present boards of certification.

Making the superintendent of education the appointee of a board of education to be created by the appointment of one member of the board from each of the district courts of appeals. The director now is appointed by the governor and is responsible only to him.

The house retained the appropriation for $1,000 for new carpets for the governor's office after Rep Julian Schweller Democrat of Putnam chairman of the finance committee gave assurance that the money already collected by the governor for his rug fund would be turned over to the state treasury.

The house refused to restore to the bill an appropriation for the bureau of classification and examination which examines and classifies inmates of state institutions. The appropriation for the bureau will expire June 30.

The dog racing bill was defeated in the house by a vote of 52 yeas and 51 nays. It previously had passed the senate with only one dissenting vote.

Defeat of the Ward bill means that there will be no state regulation of the milk industry in Ohio after the Burk marketing bill expires July 1.

The Ward milk marketing bill was defeated in the house by a vote of 31 yeas and 71 nays. The house yesterday defeated the Carey milk control bill.

APPEALS FOR EARLY SALES TAX RETURNS

Cornely Asks Vendors To File Before Final Rush

An appeal to Marion county holders of vendors licenses to file returns before the final rush begins was made today by Floyd Cornely county sales tax examiner.

Only 600 of the county's 1,700 vendors have made returns which must be filed by May 31 he said. He added all holders of vendors licenses must file returns by that date or be subject to a penalty.

Mr Cornely yesterday completed a tour of rural communities of the county by spending the day at Caledonia where about 30 returns were received. From now until the final date he will maintain a temporary office in the county commissioners office in the courthouse. The office he said will be open daily from 8 to 11:30 a m 1 to 5 p m and 7:30 to 9 p m.

COLUMBUS O May 16—Six firemen were injured fighting a blaze which destroyed the Adams Recreation Palace here early today. George Adams the proprietor estimated the damage at $12,000.

Fire Captain John Lewis suffered a back [illegible] and fireman Fay Ruhl was burned on the face and hands. The other four suffered slight burns.

PREDICTS 'NEW FACE' FOR G. O. P. CAMPAIGN

Republican Leader Gives Forecast at Fund Raising Conference.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 16—A prediction by George F Getz that a new face will be in the center of the Republican picture when the 1936 campaign rolls around gave political prognosticators more food for cogitation today.

Getz treasurer of the Republican national committee came here to attend a fund raising conference of committee members. When reporters asked him about possible presidential nominees he said:

"I think it will be a new face."

"Do you think he will be able to beat Roosevelt?" Getz a Chicagoan was asked.

"We hope so but we are keeping our fingers crossed" he replied.

More optimism was expressed by Rep James Wadsworth an upstate New Yorker and former United States senator often mentioned as an available candidate for the nomination.

"We have an excellent chance" he asserted in an interview. "Public sentiment throughout the country is turning against President Roosevelt and the New Deal."

Declaring he is not a candidate the New Yorker said people realize that all this regimentation of agriculture industry and everything else operates to defeat recovery.

"And they know that this era of extravagance has got to stop or else the country will go bust that's all."

increased unemployment. They have increased the cost of living and placed a heavier burden on the American farmer."

If the codes have increased employment Mr Hoover said it was not apparent.

Wants System Abandoned

To the customary answer of destructive criticism or the other question "what substitute is offered?" he continued "I suggest that the only substitute for an action that rests on definite and proved economic error is to abandon it. We do not construct new buildings on false foundations.

"The beneficial objectives of a greater social justice and the prevention of sweating child labor and abuse in business practices should be and can be better attained by specific statutory law.

"The whole concept of NRA is rooted in a regimented economy of scarcity—an idea that increased costs restricted production and hampered enterprise that will enrich a nation. The notion may enrich a few individuals and help a few businesses but it will impoverish the nation and undermine the principles of real social justice upon which this nation was founded.

"That original ballyhoo used to hypnotize and coerce the people into acquiescence is now gone. Most of the originally grandiose schemes now are conceded to be a violation of the spirit and the letter of the American constitution."

Richberg Labeled "Mussolini" of NRA

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 16 The struggle over the future of NRA took on new intensity today with Sen Clark Democrat of Missouri assailing Donald R Richberg as a would-be Mussolini and Richberg doing his utmost to combat Clark's ideas on blue eagle extension.

Angered by criticism of his measure to extend the agency only 10 months more Clark said he would make a speech in the senate on Donald R Richberg and his ambition to be a Mussolini in the United States.

Wants Alterations

Richberg chairman of NRA's governing board meanwhile appealed to house leaders to make major alterations in the Clark plan which the senate has approved.

In a conference with Democratic members of the house ways and means committee last night he argued that the new NRA legislation should apply to business substantially affecting interstate commerce. The bill which the senate passed overwhelmingly would place all intra-state business outside the code structure.

The house members tentatively turned down Richberg's request on this point contending such a provision as he suggested would amount to the same thing as the present law. But they gave support to his contention that NRA should be continued two years instead of 10 months.

Ripping into Richberg for his fight against the senate measure Clark held that a talk with the NRA chieftain made to his staff recently was "the most brazen exhibition of impudence on the part of a bureaucrat" he had ever seen. Richberg had referred to the 10-month extension as "complete folly."

Bitter Fight Foreseen

This controversy emphasized the possibility of a bitter dispute between the house and senate over NRA.

SECURITY PROGRAM CHANGE SUGGESTED

Advisory Council Asks Alteration to Stimulate More Steady Employment.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 16—A report expressing "every sympathy" for the objectives of the President's social security program but asking changes to stimulate employers to provide steady work was made public today by the 50 major industrial executives comprising the administration's business advisory council.

Meanwhile the senate finance committee modified the administration social security bill to permit individual company reserves for unemployment insurance as in the Wisconsin plan but failed to reach a final vote on the big economic protection program.

The house bill required statewide pools for unemployment insurance.

Sen La Follette Progressive of Wisconsin offered the amendment to permit company reserves arguing that otherwise the Wisconsin law and others now in effect would be invalid.

President Roosevelt's economic security commission recommended the statewide pooling system as affording a greater protection to the worker. It argued that company reserves would not protect workers in industries where employment was irregular.

The finance committee also expanded the social security program to include protection for the needy blind. An amendment was adopted adding a new section setting up a federal aid system for the blind on the same basis as the plan for aiding the aged.

The federal government would match state benefits up to $15 a month to each needy blind person.

Chairman Harrison said he hoped to get a final vote on the bill tomorrow.

The advisory council's attitude on unemployment insurance was summarized in the following paragraph:

"We have every sympathy for the objectives expressed by the President concerning greater social security and removal of fear of unemployment from the workers mind and are in hearty agreement with the statement of the advisory council on economic security that the plan should serve as an incentive to employers to provide steady work and to prevent unemployment. The bill before congress offers no such incentive."

SENATE ROW OPENED BY FARMERS' VISIT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 16—Though the farmers who came to praise the New Deal's agrarian policy had nearly all gone home today they left behind them a row that stirred the depths of bitterness.

Before the senate was a resolution by Sen Hastings Republican of Delaware, demanding that the agriculture department produce data to show whether the "March on Washington" was subsidized by the AAA. Secretary Wallace saying he welcomed an investigation denied the AAA had any connection with the demonstration.

Earlier Hastings had compared President Roosevelt to a "small town bully" because of his declaration before the assembled farmers that critics were "lying" about the AAA program.

GEORGIA'S REPEAL VOTE UNDECIDED

Official Tabulation Awaited, Wets Now In Lead

By The Associated Press

ATLANTA Ga May 16—Despite a lead of 8,130 votes for repeal of Georgia's 2[illegible] year old prohibition law it appeared early today an official tabulation would be necessary to decide definitely the result of yesterday's repeal referendum.

The surprising majority for repeal returned by Chatham county (Savannah) approximately 10,000 votes was the major factor in giving the wet forces their lead.

The Associated Press tabulation early today of unofficial returns from the referendum which also included separate questions on legalization of beer and wine follow:
